Advertisement Tenure Line position in the Division of General Medical Disciplines

Stanford University School of Medicine seeks applicants for a University Tenure Line (UTL) position in the Division of General Medical Disciplines. We will consider candidates who have an MD degree and are trained in Internal Medicine, Geriatrics, or Family Medicine and health services research. We expect the successful candidate to engage primarily in academic research supplemented by clinical care and bedside teaching. Criteria for the position include shown ability to obtain peer reviewed research funding or the potential to secure such funding, and excellence in clinical medicine, teaching and institutional service appropriate to the programmatic need the individual is expected to fulfill.

The predominant criterion for appointment in the University Tenure Line is a major commitment to research and teaching.

Faculty rank will be determined by the qualifications and experience of the successful candidate.

Applications will be considered on a rolling basis until the position is filled.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Candidates should submit a detailed letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and addresses of three external references to: Steven M. Asch, M.D., M.P.H., Professor of Medicine; Division of General Medical Disciplines (GMD), c/o Joseph Martinez, 1265 Welch Road, Rm. 3C36, Stanford, CA 94305-5411, or via email to josephm@stanford.edu
