

This is the opportunity you've been looking for – Chief, General Pediatrics

Baystate Medical Center, the Western Campus of Tufts University School of Medicine in western Massachusetts, seeks a strategic-thinking Chief, Division of General Pediatrics. This is an opportunity to provide leadership in new program development, quality improvement, continuity of care, academic production and the professional development of clinical staff. The ideal candidate will engage other leaders and staff to improve the education and training of staff, implement guidelines, develop protocols, facilitate quality improvement projects tied to outcomes research, and promote a culture of excellence. Baystate Health's Division of Pediatrics also maintains rheumatology, adolescent medicine and newborn nursery care programs while maintaining two large primary clinics and a multi-faceted community-based program, all housed within Baystate Children's Hospital, the only full-service children's hospital in our area.

Contact:

Mary-Alice Abbott, MD, Search Committee Chair
c/o Melissa Hale, Physician Careers Liaison
Telephone: 413-794-2624; Fax: 413-794-5059
Email: Melissa.Hale@BaystateHealth.org

Baystate Health is a nationally ranked, award-winning, multi-institutional healthcare system located in the beautiful Connecticut River Valley of Western Massachusetts. Baystate Health was recently recognized as a Thompson Reuters Top 15 Health System for outstanding clinical performance and quality outcomes and Baystate Medical Center was recently recognized as the #5 overall "Major Teaching Hospital" in Thompson Reuters 100 Top Hospitals for their overall organizational performance in patient care, operational efficiency and financial stability.

Visit our recruitment portal at:
<http://www.ChooseBaystateHealth.org/ChiefGenPed/JoinUs>

Baystate
Medical Center

The Western Campus of Tufts
University School of Medicine