

The College of Human Medicine (CHM) at Michigan State University (MSU) invites applications and nominations for the position of Chair of the Department of Family Medicine. This is an outstanding opportunity to join a medical college at a moment of geographic expansion.

MSU, a Big Ten university, is one of the nation's premier land-grant institutions and a member of the Association of American Universities. CHM is nationally recognized as an innovator in problem-based learning and a pioneer of community-based medical education and is working to bring the concept of community-based medical education into the top tier of medical schools. Clinical practice, research, and undergraduate and graduate medical education take place across six campuses in Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Midland Regional, Traverse City, and the Upper Peninsula Region.

CHM has recently embarked on an ambitious strategy of scientific and educational expansion, establishing college headquarters and a four-year medical campus in Grand Rapids, doubling CHM student enrollment, and expanding academic programs in Flint, Lansing, Midland, Traverse City, and the Upper Peninsula Community. The Department of Family Medicine seeks as Chair a dynamic visionary and collaborative family physician with a strong record of research, teaching, and enterprise building. The Chair will lead a talented team of academic family physician faculty, educators, and researchers in multiple locations; effectively negotiate and strengthen the affiliate relationships with its multiple independent clinical partners; and advance the national stature and financial well-being of the department.

Please direct inquiries, nominations, and applications to Isaacson, Miller, a national retained executive search firm. All replies will be held in strict confidence. Review of candidates will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.
