

Senior advisor for the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI) at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS)

Patrick Conway , MD, MSc, is recruiting a senior advisor for the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI) at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). Patrick serves as Director of CMMI as well as Deputy Administrator and Chief Medical Officer for CMS. This role is a key strategic role working with Patrick and the front office leadership of CMMI. CMMI leads payment and service delivery models across the nation including Accountable Care Organizations, Bundled Payments, Comprehensive Primary Care, Population health, State Innovation, and other models. The role entails both leading and supporting strategic work and teams across CMMI including model development, model implementation, evaluation, and policy development. It is a growth and career accelerating opportunity. We would consider both current and former RWJ Clinical Scholars.
