

The Section of General Internal Medicine, Yale University, and Department of Internal Medicine is seeking talented Clinician Educators at the Assistant/Associate Professor level to join the core faculty of the Yale Primary Care Internal Medicine Residency. Core faculty positions in the program are fully funded with ample protected time allocated for development of clinical, educational and scholarly pursuits. Clinical and teaching opportunities include both inpatient and ambulatory settings. Mentored opportunities for scholarship and leadership within the program exist. More information about our outstanding Residency Program and Core Faculty is available at on our website:

<https://medicine.yale.edu/intmed/residency/programs/primarycare>. Interested candidates should send their current CV to John P. Moriarty, MD, FACP. Program Director, Associate Professor of Medicine, 1450 Chapel Street, Private 318, New Haven, CT 06511. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Yale University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale values diversity in its faculty, students, and staff and especially welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans and members of minority groups.