

Kennedy Krieger Institute

Assistant Professor/Researcher, Family Center at Kennedy Krieger Institute

The Family Center at Kennedy Krieger Institute provides quality, culturally competent, consumer involved, comprehensive clinical programs for children and families affected by or at risk for trauma related to maltreatment or exposure to violence.

We seek an energetic full time faculty member to join a developing research division within a busy urban out-patient pediatric mental health center that focuses on the treatment of childhood exposure to neglect, physical/sexual abuse, community /domestic violence and traumatic loss. This is a research position that combines coordination and management of clinical research studies, teaching research techniques to students, manuscript preparation, data analysis, and grant writing. Some clinical responsibilities will be included.

The individual must qualify for a faculty appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor at the Johns Hopkins University. Individual must be licensed or board eligible. Research post-doctoral fellowship is highly desirable.

Competitive salary and benefits. The Family Center at Kennedy Krieger Institute is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and encourages individuals from racial and ethnic minority groups to apply.
