

Opportunity for an academic position in West Palm Beach, Florida

Seeking: Graduating General Internal Medicine Fellows

We are a New University of Miami Internal Medicine Residency with 66 categorical residents.

We are starting our second year and have need of an additional academic internist for our faculty. In particular we are looking for an individual who is interested in taking the lead in directing our residency in their scholarly activities and research. In past programs I have had good success with recruiting graduating fellows who bring the skills and enthusiasm for such a position. Please use the contact info below to learn more about our program.
