RE: General Medicine Faculty Position

Dear Fellowship Director,

I am writing to announce a General Medicine faculty job opportunity that might be of interest to your graduating, or recently graduated, fellows.

We are looking for a board certified internist to join our eight member faculty group at Providence St. Vincent Medical Center in Portland, Oregon. The job is ideal for those who enjoy patient care, teaching and some administrative or research projects. The faculty supervise 24 categorical, high-quality IM residents in their continuity clinic. The teaching clinic has a unique design allowing for close mentoring, a socio-economically diverse patient population, and a clinic so popular with the local community that at times we even have to close the resident practices. The faculty also have a modest private practice, are actively involved in all aspects of the residency program, attend on the inpatient wards 4-8 weeks per year, and have 4 half days per week allotted for administrative/research time. We primarily recruit faculty dedicated to teaching and patient care, but would also appreciate an applicant with clinical research skills to mentor residents in quality improvement projects and serve as an academic role model. We have an electronic medical record and sophisticated disease registries.

Interested applicants can contact me (Claudia.leonard@providence.org) or our CMO, Dr. Robert Gluckman (Robert.gluckman@providence.org).

Sincerely,
