Scientific Director, Bassett Research Institute

This is an exceptional opportunity for a talented, experienced investigator to lead the Research Institute at Bassett Healthcare Network. Reporting directly to Vance Brown, M.D., President and CEO of Bassett Medical Center and the Bassett Healthcare Network, the Director of the Research Institute must have demonstrated leadership skills, doctoral-level training and years of successful research efforts, current funding with a substantial history of funded projects, substantive publications and service on study sections. This person will oversee all activities within the Research Institute, support areas of ongoing research, encourage and support physician clinical research endeavors and explore new areas of research efforts. The Scientific Director will report to the CEO and Trustees on the progress of these efforts.

Areas of Research Focus for the Director might include:
- Population health research
- Community-based health intervention
- Rural health system performance improvement

The Bassett Healthcare Network is an integrated health care delivery system that provides care and services to an eight county region covering 5,600 square miles in upstate New York. The organization includes six hospitals, two skilled nursing facilities, more than 40 community and school-based health centers, and other vertically integrated services and agencies. It also serves as a campus for Columbia medical students who spend much of their learning about patient-centered care in an integrated network setting. The Network provides a fairly stable patient population for clinical studies and an electronic medical records system with aggregate data on patient risk factors, treatment and health outcomes.
